Useless Investigation.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Judge
Trumbull declines to serve as a member of the Federal commission to investigate the recent strike, for the reason, as he significantly declares, that the trouble is over, and there is nothing left to investigate. That is to say the law authorizing the appointment of such commissioners limits their investigations to pending controversies, and there is now no controversy pending between the railroads and their employees. In fact, there was no such controversy, properly speaking. The strikers did not at any time have a quarrel with the railroads
in the sense contemplated by the law.
In so far as there was a dispute about wages, it related entirely to the Pullman company and its employees, and that company, as Judge Trumbull might have pointed out, does not come under the jurisdiction of the commission. It is a private corporation, having nothing to do with inter-state commerce, and therefore not being subject to Federal supervision or investigation.
The strike on the part of the railroad employees was of the sympathetic order, which implies the absence of a direct grievance, or of any issue that can be adjusted by the parties immediately concerned. It was not at any time in the power of the railroads to stop the strike. They were the blameless victims of circumstances, and could only wait for the circumstances to change.

It is impossible to see, therefore, how the commission that President Cleveland
has appointed can render any profitable service. The most that it can do is to collect and report information that is already familiar with the country, and that does not present any opportunity of arbitration or other form of Federal interference. There is no question to be decided, no case to be tried. The conditions of an existing contest between employer and employee is wanting;
and where there are no such conditions, the law is not applicable. If the commissioners undertake to investigate the affairs of the Pullman company, they will be informed that the law does not give them such authority, and that they will have to look elsewhere for a chance to carry out
the purposes of their appointment.
Judge Trumbull is a man of large legal and legislative experience, and hence understands at a glance that nothing definite or beneficial can be accomplished by a commission thus restricted in its operations. The trouble which is advised as a cause for the proposed investigation has disappeared, as he says,
and so there is no necessity of Federal action to remove it, and there is no controversy in progress that calls for adjustment. He does not go so far as to say that the commission represents a strained and doubtful construction of the statute under which it has been appointed; but he does show that its labors are sure to be disappointing, and that the expense of the same will be so much money thrown away.

TIFFIN, O., July 28.—While the injunction case of The Tiffin Street Railway Co. vs. The Railway and Power
Co. was being heard before Judge
Smalley yesterday, Judge John Mc-Cauley and Hon. George E. Soney, representing the defendant and plaintiff respectively, were the participants in the most exciting scenes ever enacted in the court in this city. Judge Soney had the floor, and in the course of his remarks applied insulting words to Mc-Cauley. The latter jumped up, grabbed a large law book and thrust it into Judge Soney's face. Sheriff Burman and a score of listeners rushed in and separated the combatants, who had become tangled up in a lively scuffle.
Judge Smalley fined Judge McCauley
$10, and ordered him committed to jail until the fine was paid. At the same time he gave utterance to a stinging rebuke to the combatants.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

—Harvard is the oldest and one of the most richly-endowed institutions of learning in the United States. It was founded in 1636, and named after Rev.
John Harvard, who bequeathed it a legacy of $780.

—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church at Saratoga adopted the majority report of the committee on theological seminaries, recommending that the assembly assume control of these institutions.

—Rev. John Cornell, for nearly eighteen years rector of the American Episcopal church, Nice, France, has resigned, and will return to America to live. The vestry have published a handsome testimonial of his services
during those many years.

—Next to Harvard the oldest college
was that of William and Mary at Williamsburg, the capital of Virginia.
Yale college, in New Haven, was the third in age. There was also during colonial times a college in New York,
one in Philadelphia and another in Princeton, N. J.

—The American Sunday School Union
has received for its missionary work during the past year $120,158, as against $109,238 for the previous year.
It has employed 138 men, organized 1, 785 new Sunday schools, with 68,373
teachers and scholars, reorganized 439
schools and aided 8,363.

—The board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, which has its headquarters at 53 Fifth avenue, New York, has recently sent to the king of Siam a beautifully engrossed letter of congratulation upon his attaining the twenty-fifth year of his reign, and thanking him for his kindness to the Presbyterian missionaries and missions
in his kingdom.

—In a certain female college the students have formed a council of students, to which all disputed points of outward and visible conduct may be referred. Representatives from each class in the college compose the council, and they look up the evidence of the best authorities on manners and deportment.
Fortnightly papers on various heads of the subject are read and discussed, and the inward grace that dictates fine manners is considered.

—There are eight Protestant missions in the Congo region. These missions extend over an area of 1,500,000 square miles, containing a population of 50,000,000. The Swedish mission is at work on the lower Congo, and Bishop Taylor, of the Methodist Episcopal church, has missions in Congo and Angola. The Berlin Missionary society has over 11,000 church members in south and east Africa, and the French Protestant missions in Basutoland have 3,000 children in school. The Zulu mission of the American board is in a prosperous condition.—N. Y. Evangelist.

—Of the first twenty-four classes
graduated at Vassar college, having 807
members, 318, or a little more than 38
per cent., were in the year 1890 reported as married, and 305 were reported as engaged in teaching. Of the others, 38 were described as literary workers; 38
as physicians and medical students; 116 were teachers of arts, 5 were artists, 3 farmers, librarians and the others were enrolled as organists, secretaries, compilers, missionaries, actors, book-keepers, etc. Among them I fail to find a single clergyman, or a single lawyer. These facts prove that college training has not diverted women from vocations which they are specially fitted by nature to follow. More than a third of all the women who graduate marry. Indeed, it may be said that statistics show that toward one-half of all college women do marry.
They marry later than women who are not graduates, and also, it may be added, marry better. In marriage they find their vocation. More than a third of college graduates become teachers, and teaching is one of those great vocations which woman seems to be ordained of Heaven to follow.—Prof Thwing.

THE POOR MODERN TOOTH.

One Authority Says Vegetable Eating, Have Worse Teeth Than Meat Eaters.

A correspondent sends this interesting letter on the subject of teeth: "In a letter to Nature on 'The Teeth and Civilization,' the writer advances a theory to account for the great prevalence of decay of the teeth at the present day, and concludes that Dr. Wilburforce Smith's investigations show that the ancients enjoyed a perfect set of teeth till advanced years, and modern savages enjoy the same blessing."

"I have not had the opportunity of seeing Dr. Wilburforce Smith's communication, but the number of cases examined in this particular instance (ten Sioux Indians) would hardly be sufficient to draw conclusions from; and even in these ten cases all the teeth were not examined. I think, however, it has been sufficiently proved by several careful investigations that caries of the teeth is not a purely modern disease and is not entirely confined to civilized races. My father, in a communication to the Odontological society in 1870 brought together the results of an inquiry extending over more than ten years, in which he examined over 3,000 skulls, including all the available collections in Great Britain, and his conclusions as to the prevalence of dental caries differ very considerably from those of the writer of this letter."

"Among thirty-six skulls of ancient Egyptians he found caries in fifteen (41.66 per cent.), in twenty-six Anglo-Saxon skulls he found twelve cases (15.78 per cent.), among 143 skulls of Romano-Britons there were forty-one cases (28.67 per cent.), while among forty-four miscellaneous skulls of ancient Britons 20.45 per cent. showed carious teeth. Several other collections gave similar results."

"Again, with regard to savage races, among the Tasmanians 27.7 per cent. of caries was found, among native Australians 20.45 per cent., among East African skulls 24.24 per cent., and among those of West African natives 27.06. Similar results were obtained on the examination of skulls of many other races, but I think I have quoted figures sufficient to prove that caries is not confined to civilized races or to modern times."

"It is quite comprehensible that excessive nerve strain, especially by affecting vascular supply, may lead to imperfect nutrition during the development of the teeth, and we know that the diseases of early childhood have a very marked effect upon tooth structure, indicated by the ridged and defective teeth so frequently seen, and it seems quite possible that too early stimulus of the brain in childhood may have a similar effect on forming teeth. It is very difficult, however, to understand how nerve strain can have any direct effect upon fully formed teeth, and we should, I think, look for the explanation of the cases referred to in some vitiated condition of the fluids of the mouth, caused by the depressed condition of health so common among hospital nurses."

"There is little doubt that an open-air life and healthy surroundings encourage the formation of sound teeth in a sound body; but I cannot but think that the principal cause of caries must be looked for in the food. It is plainly shown by many investigators, and in the paper above referred to, that caries is rare among peoples who subsist principally upon animal food; the Esquimaux showed, among sixty-nine skulls, only two cases of caries, and the largest amount of disease was found among those races who lived upon a mixed or exclusively vegetable diet. These results are, of course, easily understood under the more accurate knowledge which we now possess of the immediate cause of dental caries."

"As to the relative frequency with which different teeth are affected, I think statistics plainly show that it is the first molar tooth of the lower jaw which is most prone to decay of any tooth in the series, and most authorities consider the second lower molar as the next in order; with these two exceptions, the upper are more frequently diseased than the lower teeth. This would, however, not affect the argument, as the lower molars are of course also supplied by the fifth nerve."

"Structural defects, due to inherited weakness or imperfect nutrition during the development of the teeth, combined with the use of soft cooked food, which is long retained in contact with them, and is of a nature eminently suitable for fermentation, give us, I think, the principal factors of decay among civilized races."

"While allowing the influence of nerve strain in early childhood, and as a factor in hereditary transmission of defective structure, I fail to see how it can influence teeth already formed."

"The German Emperor is now titular commander of seventeen regiments. He is also Honorary Admiral of the British fleet, an Honorary Admiral of the Danish fleet and a suite of the Swedish and Norwegian fleet."

"The mother of Bret Harte was a handsome factory girl. Her husband educated her and she became one of the most cultured women in Detroit."

The Faithful Put Up A Full County Ticket.

Proceedings of the Convention—The Unfortunate Who Cannot Win This Year—Opposition to Resolutions.

THE TICKET.

County Judge... William E. Nelson, Decatur.
Clerk... A. O. Bolen, Decatur.
Sheriff... Charles E. Wheeler, Decatur.
County Treasurer... James Turner, Blue Mound.
Supt. Schools... J. N. Donahay, Decatur.

The Democratic faithfuls of Macou county met this morning at 11 o'clock to put a county ticket in the field. The delegates looked like men who were bearing up remarkably well under the diversities of their party. Every fellow looked as if he had swallowed and was digesting the tempting morsel thrown out that all the troubles the country is now undergoing, is due to bad Republican laws, and that the reason that the country had not had relief was due to the opposition of the Republicans in congress.

At ten minutes after 10 o'clock Hon. W. S. Smith, chairman of the county central committee, called the delegates to order and S. S. Jack was selected as temporary chairman. James T. Whitely was elected temporary secretary. The call was then read, after which J. M. Gray moved that a committee, of three on credentials be appointed. This was carried and the chair appointed J. M. Gray, Dr. J. L. Connelly and Dr. J. C. Hall.

The number of delegates for each precinct was then called and the credentials were handed to the committee.

The committee reported no contests and that the districts were all represented but the 10th. On motion those names which appeared on the credentials were declared members of the convention.

On motion of J. M. Gray the temporary officers were made permanent. A delegate then arose and stated that it might be well to appoint a committee on resolutions, but several members objected, giving as their reason that nobody wanted to "resoloot."

The convention then adjourned until 10 o'clock.

AFTERNOON.
The delegates were a little slow in assembling, and it was not until 1:20 o'clock that Chairman Jack rapped the convention to order.

B. F. Shipley moved that this order be observed in making nominations: County judge, sheriff, treasurer, superintendent of schools.

J. H. Moran asked why a county clerk was not named, and after some remarks he moved to insert the words county clerk. Robt. I. Hunt asked for the yeas and nays.

J. M. Gray arose and said, this can mean but one thing. It means Democrats are to be asked to vote for G. P. Hardy, a Republican bolter. I am opposed to bolters and if this is done I tell you now I will vote for the regular Republican nominee. I will do it because I hate a bolter. We can nominate a Democrat and elect him. We can nominate Clay Montgomery, and I have it on good authority that he will accept and he can beat the Republican nominee 500 votes. Hardy will run independently anyway and that will elect the Democrat. I know that Hardy will run. There is no doubt of it.

Robert I. Hunt then spoke in favor of leaving the office of county clerk open. He called attention to the fact that in Cook county such things were often done, and it was regarded as good politics.

C. C. Leforge made a ringing speech in favor of a straight nomination and called attention to the course of the party in the judicial fusion when the Democrats went down to defeat.

J. H. Moran here notified the convention that the Ninth district had passed a resolution declaring that if the office of county clerk were left open, the Democrats of that district would bolt the entire ticket.

I. D. Walker stated Montgomery would not accept the nomination, and he favored leaving the place open.

B. F. Shipley said he doubted the Democracy of the Ninth district if it took the position stated.

H. M. Bragg stated he would not vote for a bolter. He was not in favor of half-breeds of any kind. They are not entitled to anybody's vote. He said he could name a man who would accept the nomination and who would be elected.

B. F. Shipley then tried to withdraw his motion but it resulted in a motion to lay on the table which prevailed.

THE NOMINATIONS.
The convention then proceeded to nominate candidates in the order of the call by the committee. C. C. Leforge nominated W. E. Nelson, of Decatur, for County Judge. The nomination was made by acclamation.

H. M. Bragg named A. O. Bolen, of Decatur, for County Clerk. The nomination was made by acclamation.

J. D. Walker named John P. Farris, of Nauvoo, for Sheriff.
D. D. Hill named George W. Lehman, of Decatur.
C. C. Leforge named Charles E. Wheeler, of Decatur township.
M. C. Griffin and Charles Borchers were appointed to assist the secretary in taking the ballot. The result of the first ballot was: J. P. Farris, 25 votes; Charles E. Wheeler, 35 votes; George Lehman, 24 votes.

The second ballot resulted as follows: Farris, 26; Lehman, 19; Wheeler, 39.

Lehman was withdrawn and the third ballot was as follows: Wheeler, 53; Farris 32. And Wheeler was declared the nominee for sheriff.

Maj. Williams named James Turner, of Blue Mound, for treasurer.

L. A. Buckingham named James Zollars, of Macou. Mr. Zollars declined and James Turner was nominated by acclamation.

M. C. Griffin named J. N. Donahay for superintendent of schools. There were several seconds, and Mr. Donahay was elected by acclamation.

Springfield Journal: For the Decatur team Park and Trux did good work at first and short respectively. Gallagher was not big enough for third and had numerous costly errors to his credit.

While Smith was easy to hit at times, he was steady and with the exception of two innings kept the hits well scattered. While the outfielders had plenty of exercise in chasing the ball, there were few chances for them to fasten their digits around fly balls. The team as a whole was good enough to win in a whirlwind of luck, and that was all that was necessary.

Left Home.
Miss Ola Johnson, a sixteen-year-old girl of Pana, ran away from home last week and came to this place. Her brother followed her, and with Constable Funderbunk found she was stopping at John Traubner's house. They went to the house Thursday, the brother going in the front way, Constable Funderbunk taking his stand at the rear. As anticipated, the girl caught sight of her brother as he reached the door, and immediately sought to escape the back way. Considerably to her surprise she ran directly into Officer Funderbunk's arms, who led her back to the house. After a consultation with her brother she decided to return home with him, though considerably against her wishes. She claimed that her parents were trying to force her to marry a man who was obnoxious to her.—Blue Mound Leader.

Elected Officers.
The Logal club held a meeting last night at its court house and elected the following officers for the ensuing three months:

President—A. H. Jones.
Vice President—A. D. Risley.
Secretary—L. P. Hughes.
Treasurer—George Harpstrite.
Program Committee—George Harpstrite, R. J. Hunt and A. E. Park.

The topic of the evening was "Con tracks," and it was ably discussed by W. W. Shelly.

Shot At From an Ambush.
George Randall, a discharged Eastern Illinois fireman, was arrested at Danville last evening for attempted murder. It is claimed that he fired several shots from ambush at a non-union engineer in a switch engine. He had a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the next term of the circuit court in the sum of $1,000. Not being able to furnish bail he was confined to the county jail. The state claims to have a clear case against him.

Went Fishing.
Maj. J. B. Inman, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, went to-day to the government locks, near Versailles, for a few days' fishing. He was accompanied by the following gentlemen as his guests: W. J. Lloyd, assistant superintendent, and F. J. Rerdon, chief clerk of the Western Union telegraph at Chicago, C. C. Kinsman, of Decatur, superintendent of the Wabash telegraph system, D. W. Rider, of Jacksonville, and A. B. Cowan, of Quincy, local manager of the company.—Springfield News.

TABLE TALK FROM AFAR.

The English people are famous diners.

Round tables are the most popular in France.

The Persians are great lovers of confectionery.

The modern dinner is a direct descendant of the feudal feast.

In Turkey the water pipe follows the repast; in Persia it comes first.

In China there is no equivalent of what is known to us as "the dinner party."

Serence and expedition are the chief characteristics of a Turkish dinner.

The Chinese show their courtesy by feeding their guests and visitors at any hour of the day.

In England the number of invitations to dinner is a good gauge of the individual's popularity.

Forks are unknown in Turkey, but a good Mussulman washes his fingers before he begins to eat.

Raw fish, garnished with red seaweed, is a crowning feature of an "away up" Japanese feast.

A JAPANESE dinner of high pretension is eaten with chopsticks, to the accompaniment of music and dancing.

It is said that whales can remain under the surface of the ocean for an hour and a half.

In the days of Columbus only seven metals were known to exist. Now there are fifty-one.

There are 100 students taking the course of electrical engineering at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The Electrical Review says "the electrical purification of sewage is a complete success, chemically and bacteriologically."

Medical men die off more rapidly than other professional men. Between the ages of forty-five and sixty-five, two doctors die to one clergyman.

A lobster's skin when shedding splits down the back and comes off in two equal parts. The tail slips off of the shell like a finger out of a glove.

To make animals unconscious before slaughtering is considered humane in Bern, Switzerland. A test was recently made there by legal enactment and it took six quarts of alcohol to render an ox unfeelingly drunk.

Mr. G. Gallouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Tans! Tans! This is the season when we want to sell them and it is the season when you want to buy them. There ought not to be the slightest difficulty in our agreeing if you will only come to our store and bring your feet with you. We have a great stock of Men's Tan Shoes which we want to turn into money during this hot weather, and we are not going to ask you a regular price for them, either. The truth is that we want to sell them so bad that we don't mind about the profit. We will sell you any pair of our Men's Tan Shoes that were bought to sell at $4.00, at only $2.98. Our fine $6.00 Hanan & Sons' cloth top, wing tip, button tans—we will sell you as many pairs of them as you want at $4 per pair. These are samples only of the prices we make. The truth is that in the tan shoes for ladies which we have on hand there are just as great bargains as in those for men's wear. We must clean up this stock and we invite your co-operation. If you examine these goods we know you will buy.

SUNDAY AT THE CAMP

An Interesting Program Prepared for the Sabbath Day.

Joint Discussion on the Prohibition Question by Brooks and Smith.

The rain which came yesterday afternoon served only to cause a little flurry of excitement at the National Prohibition camp-meeting at Oakland park. The big tent was torn slightly by the wind, and the service bell kept up a din which had to be choked off by Manager Smith.

THE DISCUSSION.

"The Prohibition Party is Unreasonable, illogical and Unscriptural," was the subject of a joint discussion by Elder Brooks and Manager Smith, which was heard by a large audience.

Elder H. M. Brooks, of Paris, talked in the opening for an hour, claiming that no moral question was ever settled by the ballot; that it could be settled by training the young; that when we give the training of children as much attention as we give to the raising of pigs and calves, something will be accomplished. In the scriptures the people are advised to be sober and temperate, but no where in the Bible is anything said against the manufacture of liquor. The Prohibition party attacks the manufacture of liquor, but is silent about the drunkards. If sobriety can be enforced that way, in the same manner faith, hope and charity can be established. The law never made a man free. It only protects a man who is free. That is what law is for.

Albert F. Smith, the Prohibition nominee for congress in the Seventeenth district, spoke for one hour and thirty minutes, insisting that the Prohibition party had a mission, and that no party which is supported by the gamblers, saloon keepers and the vicious element generally, can bring about any reform in the liquor traffic. Such people are disloyal to the government. They went so far during the war as to demand the repeal of the liquor laws. No man, unless he pleads ignorance, can be a Christian and vote anything else than the Prohibition ticket.

Elder Brooks in his reply said he was a friend of the poor and the Prohibition party does the poor injustice when it insists that people are poor because of the liquor traffic. The elder declared that Mr. Smith had failed to answer his main argument on the proposition, and that no further remarks were necessary.

In the evening there was singing by the Prohibition Warblers, and a solo by Miss Neal Hawkins. Mrs. Daisy H. Carlock entertained the audience by delivering her famous lecture on "Moonshining in Kentucky." She gave a description of the beautiful home of Cassius M. Clay, and of the mountains.

This forenoon there was an interesting program at the children's meeting. Addresses were made by Miss Prim C. Mahan of Lexington, Col. C. J. Holt and Rev. Hardin Smith of Decatur, who gave an entertaining account of his return on the tobacco question since he came to this city.

Ellis McMullen, Lem Strain and Grace Huff gave recitations. The military drill followed.

Free parliament was led by Prof. S. W. Dixon, who has lately taken charge of Greer college at Hoopeson. He gave a thoughtful and instructive address.

Rev. Wilkins, of Sullivan, followed with a stirring talk in favor of compulsory education.

Rev. Brandon, of Lovington, said the government will be what the citizen makes it. We need more patriotism in our public schools.

Rev. R. D. Russell, of Harriman, Tenn., arrived to-day, and will be one of the speakers to-morrow.

SUNDAY AT THE CAMP.

A fine program has been arranged for Sunday. Song service at 10.30, with special music by Miss Neal Hawkins and the Prohibition Warbler Quartet. Sermon at 11 o'clock by Rev. P. Macklin, of Ohio.

Addresses afternoon and at night by Rella Kirk Bryan, Hon. Gideon P. Macklin, Mrs. Daisy H. Carlock and others.

There will be plenty of water on the ground and every effort made to insure the comfort of those who attend.

Felt from a Wagon.

Last evening George Chenoweth, the watchman at the St. Louis bridge, met with a serious accident on West Wood street, near the Doake barn. He got into a wagon with a friend to drive to the bridge, when the mule team made a quick run and turn, throwing Chenoweth off the wagon with considerable force. He struck the boulevard and suffered a fracture of his right shoulder. Thomas Thomas and a friend took Chenoweth to the office of Dr. Cass Chenoweth, where the injury was given proper surgical attention.

Big Yields.

Mt. Pulaski News: "Squire Wm. H. Kretzinger, of Latham, is among the high-up champion wheat raisers, getting from an 80-acre field over 44 bushels to the acre. Lynch Gains, on the Toland farm, raised on 60 acres a little over 54 bushels to the acre, and Mrs. Albert Wm. Fells got only 44 bushels to the acre. Again we say this is the greatest wheat year since 1859.

Maros News: Frank C. Emery left Sunday night for Clinton, West Va., where, on Wednesday evening, he was to be united in marriage with Miss Anna North, of that city. After a brief stay there, the couple will come to this city for a few weeks' visit with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emery.

The E. A. Ewing Case.

By way of explanation it is stated that Edwin A. Ewing, who is contending in the courts for his rights under the John Rucker will, has received $15,000 from his mother's estate; $8,000 from the Rucker estate, and that his actual indebtedness is not more than $9,000; making a total of $32,000. The claim of fee simple right to Ewing's share in the Rucker estate involves property valued at $45,000. Against that is the $17,000, which will leave Mr. Ewing if wins his case in the supreme court, $28,000.

Resigned.

Owing to business matters that require his personal attention at home, Rev. G. A. Wilkins, who since the 8th of last February has been acting rector of St. John's church, has tendered his resignation to take effect the middle of August. Mr. Wilkins will then return to Vermont and probably resume his literary work.

Adjudged Insane.

In the county court the jury brought in a verdict declaring Henry Hildebrandt, of Friends Creek township, insane. He is 72 years of age, and the owner of 400 acres of land, $5000 in bank, 2000 bushels of corn and other property. The estate is worth about $50,000. Andrew Wilson was appointed conservator.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
